A Special Needs School Nursing (SNSN) website is now up and running.

It will be a source of great information. Please take a look.

I have been working closely with Alison McConville, the newly appointed Family Liaison Officer at PCHSC. We had a successful first Parent Carer Drop-In which happened to be on the morning of Day 1 of our Ofsted visit and we had great feedback! We are organizing various services to speak at the Drop-Ins. Please come and join us for a brew and biscuits, an informal chat, meet other parents and carers and meet professionals and speakers from other services.

“Leaders have recently appointed a family liaison officer to encourage parents of more-vulnerable pupils to work more closely with the school. There is also a nurse in school, who provides invaluable support to staff to enable them to ensure the welfare of pupils with complex medical conditions. These two roles contribute significantly to pupils’ excellent personal development.” OFSTED 2017

PUBLIC HEALTH ENGLAND is warning parents and carers that Measles is circulating.

See information overleaf. If you would like to discuss this with me please do not hesitate to contact me.

I have also attached a leaflet from our Local Health Commissioning group on Head Lice. We often have surprise visits from these nuisance insects so hope this information helps tackle the problem.

HAPPY CHRISTMAS 2017 FROM THE HEALTH TEAM at PCHSC

The Staff and Pupils have been colouring in hands and thinking about how we help others every day.

We all embrace how different we are and accept support and guidance to reach our potential.
